

OVERVIEW

Public Safety is the Wisconsin Department of Corrections' primary goal. It is accomplished through administering correctional institutions and centers in the State and through community supervision of offenders. Established in 1851, Corrections has a long history of innovation and accommodating the growth of the correctional system by the careful management of resources. The Department provides numerous programs to meet offenders' needs for treatment, nutrition, education, and health care.

Over 10,000 employees in nearly 170 work locations statewide work toward the ultimate goal of reducing criminal behavior and to restore a sense of safety to victims and the communities in which the offenders will reside.

The Department's information technology group, called the Bureau of Technology Management (BTM), provides essential analytical and operational services. BTM is located in our Central Office on the east side of Madison, outside of the institution environment.

Approximately 90 IT professionals participate in teams that create, maintain and support the Department's strategic information systems in a dynamic, ever-changing environment.

Join our bureau today, and help make Wisconsin a safer place while growing your career!

TEAMS

You will be making significant contributions towards the overall success of projects, whether the optimum solutions involve people, process or technology. Through cross-functional project teams you will work closely with customers to share knowledge, provide technical expertise and drive the project to successful completion. Our teams include: Application Development, Applications Support, Quality Assurance and Production Services, Service Desk and Field Support, and Technical Services.

OPPORTUNITIES

The field of Corrections is in itself interesting and challenging. BTM provides technical solutions and support services to support the efficient operation of the Department. Opportunities exist in state of the art technologies such as: Java, Oracle, Visual Basic, Websphere, Data Warehousing, and Document Management.

To view current opportunities, please visit us at:
http://www.wi-doc.com/index_employment.htm

Wisconsin Department of Corrections
3099 East Washington Avenue
PO Box 7925
Madison, WI 53707-7925
Phone: 608-240-5000

"There are a lot of opportunities to learn, and different projects to work on. I find the work interesting and challenging."

Brad
Programmer/Analyst

"I feel that I can make a positive impact on the organization. There are a lot of great people to work with."

Paul
Supervisor